

If you are an HDNet subscriber, you already know that HDNet is heavy into Mixed Martial Arts.

MMA has been a staple of our Friday night lineup and this past October we launched HDNet Fights with our first event at the American Airlines Center in Dallas. In November we launched the first News and Information show dedicated to MMA, Inside MMA which airs every Friday at 9:30pm and 1:30 EST. The response has been so strong, we have decided to ramp it up even further.

Our next live event is HDNet Fights Reckless Abandon. Its going to be December 15th at the American Airlines Center. You can see the card here. Its led by Mayhem Miller vs Tim Kennedy. Not only is this going to be a great rematch, but in the know MMA fans will recognize that Tim Kennedy is an IFL fighter. This is the first of hopefully many unified fights that we put together.

Also headlining will be MMA legend Frank Trigg vs Edwin Dewees. This along with the entire card look to be fullon.

Those of you who can make it to Dallas and the American Airlines Center can click here for tickets and as an extra bonus, the sponsor of the event, Rob Zombie's Halloween, will be giving away a free Halloween DVD to all who attend, BEFORE its available in stores. For those who can't make it, you can catch it all LIVE on HDNet, HDNet Fights is just the beginning of the live MMA fun in December.

Just yesterday we announced that HDNet will be broadcasting the IFL World Grand Prix Finals on December 29th, 9:30 EST LIVE from the Mohegan. No question it will be a great event.

Last, but certainly not least, HDNet Fights and HDNet just announced a deal with M1, you can read the details below:
