

I got this email today. Of course I'm being marginally facetious about the following idea. Why only marginally? Because all he has to do is find one sucker to say yes. Enjoy.

I have an idea to solve all of America's problems, just as all great ideas are really very simple so is this. I am self made, retired, age 45 and financially independent. I will sell this idea for $5,000,000. When you learn of this plan, you will be shocked at how simple and effective it will be. I want a cashier's check up front and I will give you the idea once it is cleared. I have it written on an index card here on my desk. This idea will probably be the biggest proponent of positive change in American History. I give you 24 hours to respond and I am going to start shopping this around. Next is Rupert Murdoch, he will love it
