

This Thursday at the American Airlines Center, the Mavs and the Texas National Guard will present "The Great GreenOut "

As with the Seats for Soldiers program and many other events and programs that the Dallas Mavericks and all of our companies do on a regular basis, we take pride in supporting those those who support this great nation of ours, without exception.

If you happen to be going to the game on Thursday, make sure to put on your shirts and wear them with pride !

Thursday, November 15, 2007, 7 PM at American Airlines Center!

Thursday will officially be Mavs and Texas National Guard "Green Out" night as the club takes on intrastate rival San Antonio.

Similar to last season's Dirk for MVP campaign, the Mavs and Texas National Guard will distribute 20,000 green t-shirts to all of the fans as they enter American Airlines Center. Everyone in attendance is asked to put on the shirt as they enter the building to show support for our troops and the Mavs.

Prior to tipoff, the Texas National Guard will have a rock climbing wall out on the AT&T Plaza and will also provide the Color Guard during the National Anthem.
