

This is what I wrote in my Presidential Endorsement Post:

In the meantime, because the economic future of this country depends on the funding of the plan Secretary Paulsen has proposed, I will set aside my campaigning and work with my colleagues in the Senate and across my party to quickly get this bill passed. The future of our economy depends on it"

The following has just been reported

SAN FRANCISCO \(MarketWatch\) — Republican presidential candidate John McCain said Wednesday he will suspend his campaign to return to Washington to deal with the current bailout debate. McCain also called for a delay of Friday's debate with Barack Obama, the first of three scheduled debates, to focus on the current financial crisis.

Good for you Senator McCain. Thanks for reading my blog ■

Senator Obama ?
